Glass Half Full or Half Empty?

I love this!

Hat tip to Mark Sieverkropp who shared it from Richie Norton's Instagram page. THIS is the entrepreneurial mindset:

The successful entrepreneur doesn't care about:

The economy.

The weather.

Who's in the White House or Congress.

What others say.

Their own disabilities or limitations.

The successful entrepreneur does care about:

Building relationships.

Creating killer products.

Offering superior service.

Selling with integrity.

Changing the world.

They sell. No matter what.

Even if you're not an entrepreneur, that should be your mindset.

How can you have a more entrepreneurial mindset?
