

mattmcwilliams.com

What Kind of Leader are You? A Lion or a Sheep?

Are you a lion or a sheep?

What about your team? Are they lions or sheep?

Regardless of whether your team is full of lions, sheep, or aardvarks, you...YOU need to be a lion. A lion can lead anyone, as Alexander the Great said nearly 2500 years ago:

So I ask you again, which are you? A lion or a sheep?

You can always be a lion

If you have a team, be a lion. Lead them with passion and fierce determination. They will follow you.

If you don't have a team, show passion and fierce determination and people will follow you. Remember leadership is influence, not position.

There is a lion inside you waiting to get out. And only you know what that lion looks like.

It's time to unleash that lion.

A list would ruin it

I thought about making a list now. 7 ways to be a leadership lion. But that would take an otherwise inspiring post and turn it into boring drivel.

You know how to be a lion. It's all in your attitude. It's all about:

- Passion
- Desire
- Determination
- Loyalty
- Unleashing yourself

Be a lion today. It just might be the first day of a life in leadership.

How can you be a lion today?